All my classes will access information for my class by assignments in teams unless you already have a packet in hand. All homework will be turned in by taking a picture of their work and sending it to me in Chat. You may also send a completed file as a pdf file with your writing on the digital copy.

All Edgenuity students will look at when things are due under course report to see if they are on track.

Best way for my students to get a message to me will be in chat.

Remote students need to actively participate and respond when called on. Cameras are not required to be on always, but will be required sometimes and will always be required during a test or quiz.

Normal pattern of conducting class will be to review homework from the night before and then give instruction on new lesson. Most students will be able to leave after instruction is given if there are no questions. Any students needing more help will have the opportunity to ask questions to gain understanding in a smaller setting.
